

In your opinion, in the university, machine learning should ideally be a spread across multiple departments.

